POLITICS IS BEHIND ATTACK ON CONTRACT

Joint Lighting Committee Considered Propositions For Eighteen Hours At Its Session.

INTERESTED PERSONS IN OPPOSITION

"Politics is behind all this noise," said a member of the joint lighting committee of the general council today, "and the whole opposition is based on the determination of the city administration to prevent this general council improving the lighting plant and building the Island creek bridge. These improvements would be a feather in the cap of this council that the administration fellows can not bear to think of."

"We wish to let the contract to the General Electric company for $10,000. They wish us to spend $20,000. They can't bear to think of our having sufficient money left in the contingent fund to repair the lighting plant and build the bridge—and there is the whole matter."

"Of course, it is easy enough to bring in all these other circumstances and impugn our motives after they have determined to block the business. You know, that every defeated competitor is ready to grasp at a straw to get a reconsideration, and each one thinks he has been badly dealt with, because he hasn't got the contract in his pocket."

"Now, they talk of too little consideration. This joint lighting committee listened to those electrical men for eighteen hours. Isn't that giving the matter consideration? As to taking advice on the subject: We are not expert electricians, but we are business men, and we know when the advice of experts is unreasonably biased toward the most expensive plan and we know that when every public measure instituted by this general council meets the opposition of the executive department, there is an intention behind it to make this council go out with a record of works unperformed."

"We listened to the proposition of these concerns for eighteen hours, then we made our report to the general council. Now, here another trick was played. Because we insisted on a vote being taken on the adoption or rejection of the committee's report, it was made to appear that we insisted on the report being adopted without considering the propositions of these various concerns. The general council proceeded along the only parliamentary lines possible. The committee had been appointed to consider these propositions. The only use of a committee is to relieve the general body of detail work. Had it been necessary, anyway, for the general council to listen to the representatives of the competing concerns, it would have been folly to let a committee waste eighteen hours going over the same thing."

"The idea of the city was to receive bids on plans for a plant sufficient to maintain 200 arc lamps, and it was estimated that the cost would be upward of $15,000. This proposition of the General Electric company gives us capacity for 300 lamps at a less cost."

"Did it ever occur to you that this general council has simply been spending money to cover up the bad management of the administration and the old Democratic board? We inherited a condemned bridge over Island creek and a run down municipal lighting plant, unfinished streets and sewers, ill equipped street cleaning department, and a hundred other deficiencies. We are trying to attend to the city's business in a business-like manner, and we are met with opposition at every turn."

"These are not the friends of the people arrayed against us, but the discredited element, part of whom the people ousted when we were elected, and the administration part."

Refuses to Heed Mother's Advice to Retain Attorneys and Will Not Be Insane.

New York, July 19.—Chaotic conditions surrounding the preparation of the defense of Harry K. Thaw, accused of the murder of Stanford White, were accentuated today.

Following quickly after the mother had twice during the day endeavored to gain the boy's consent to the re-employment of Black, Olcott, Grubel & Bonvage, and to consent to a plea of insanity, Clifford W. Hartridge, Thaw's personal counsel, obtained from Justice Blanchard, of the supreme court, late today an order directing Olcott's firm to show cause next Friday why they should not turn over to Hartridge all papers in the Thaw case. Hartridge based his motion of the petition, signed by Thaw, which was placed on record in connection with the proceedings.

Cleveland, O., July 19.—The federal grand jury late this afternoon reported that no indictments had been found against the Standard company and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway in connection with the charge of violating interstate commerce laws. This action was decided on because of lack of jurisdiction. The case and all the evidence submitted before the grand jury here will be transferred to Chicago, where proceedings will be instituted in the federal court without delay.

FIFTY-TWO SHOCKS FELT AT SOCORRO

Buildings Wrecked and Na- tives Panic Stricken.

Two-Thirds of Residences and Court- House and Schools Damaged By Disturbance.

TEMPERATURE OF SPRINGS.

El Paso, Tex., July 19.—Socorro, N. M., south of Santa Fe has been badly damaged by an earthquake. Fifty-two shocks have been felt since Sunday morning. The court-house is wrecked. The buildings of the school of mines are cracked and nearly every residence in the city is cracked or wrecked. More than two-thirds of them at least are damaged or destroyed.

The town, which is large of adobe and brick is almost shaken to pieces. People are fleeing but no one has been killed.

The Santa Fe railway has sent box cars to Socorro to take the people away and many already fled to other towns. Huge boulders, however, have been jarred down on the railroad tracks and trains cannot enter the town.

The water in the hot springs near Socorro has increased several degrees in temperature and the inhabitants think the ancient extinct volcano, ten miles away will break out and begin spouting lava again.

The entire surrounding country has felt the shocks and much damage has been done, especially at San Marcella and Magdalena, but not so severely as Socorro.

Nature of Disturbances.

Albuquerque, N. M., July 19.—The center of the earthquake disturbances in a zone 50 miles long by about 10 miles wide, running from the Ladron mountains northeast, through Sirocco San Antonio and San Marcella. On this side of the belt the shocks were hardly felt. Each one was preceded by a loud rumbling like heavy thunder, which could be heard approaching from the northwest before it reached Sirocco. People are leaving Sirocco on every train and on wagons. About 2,000 are camping in tents. No one dares to go indoors. There is much distress among the people camping in the open, as heavy rains have fallen the last two days.

FOR CONGRESS

JUDGE LIGHTFOOT ANNOUNCES IF JAMES WITHDRAWS.

Ambitions of First District Men De- pend on Latter's Race for Governor.

It is said that County Judge R. T. Lightfoot has the congressional bee buzzing in his bonnet, and his plans all depend on what Olie James does in the matter of the race for governor. It is stated that Judge Lightfoot will announce for congress as soon as James does for governor.

Those who are mentioned for James' successor are Senator J. Wheeler Campbell, Attorney Sam Crossland, of Mayfield, and Jake Corbett, of Wickliffe.

It is understood that some aspirants are using every means to get James to run and are firing cablegrams across the Atlantic urging the big congressman to an immediate decision.

COUNT TODLEBEN

Nearly Assassinated By "Red" Who Escaped.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—An attempt was made to assassinate Count Todleben, aide de camp to Emperor Nicholas, at the engineers' camp at Tiora, between St. Petersburg and Schlusselburg. The would-be assassin fired at Todleben with a revolver, the bullet grazing his head.

Bomb Thrown From School.

Tiflis, July 19.—While Chief of Police Maximoff was passing Georgian Nobles school today a bomb, thrown at him from a window of the building, exploded near the chief, seriously injuring him. Soldiers attracted to the scene surrounded the building and fired a volley into it, killing the author of the outrage.

MITCHELL SUGGESTED.

"WATER CURE" PROVES NO BAR

Court Gives Mrs. Seybert Divorce Despite Husband's Plea.

South Bend, Ind., July 19.—The famous "water cure" divorce case came to a sudden and unexpected end late this afternoon when Judge Funk gave Mrs. Ethel Griffiths-Seybert, of Chicago, a decree of separation from Franklyn Seybert, of South Bend, on a cross-complaint charging desertion. Mrs. Seybert admitted giving the water cure, but the court held that this was cruelty only to the children and not to the plaintiff. Alimony was refused.

DREYFUS CONGRATULATED.

Liberal Germans Send French Officer a Message.

Brussels, July 19.—The entire Liberal left in the chamber of deputies has united in a significant telegram to Maj. Dreyfus, felicitating him on the triumph of the truth over intrigue.

"PORCH CLIMBER" FRIGHTENED AWAY

Mrs. A. B. Sowell Hears Man Entering The House.

Pluckily Goes Down Stairs and In- forming Her Son of the Presence of the Intruder.

MAKES ESCAPE UNIDENTIFIED.

A burglar of porch climbing predilections, who attempted to gain entrance to A. B. Sowell's residence, 1325 Broadway, this morning, about daybreak, was frightened away by Mrs. Sowell who went downstairs to inform her son of the burglar's presence.

Mr. Sowell went to Memphis, leaving at 3 o'clock this morning, and Mrs. Sowell was awake when the porch climber appeared. She sleeps upstairs and heard the man climb up the porch post and over the lattice railing. She heard him cross the porch and attempt to raise a window in the bath room, just across the hall from her room.

Horace Sowell, a son sleeps down stairs and the mother left her room to inform him. Passing a room occupied by her daughters, Miss Mary K. and Caroline Sowell, she knocked at the door and awakened them. This act probably frightened the burglar away, as he had beaten a hasty retreat when the son appeared on the scene.

INTERURBAN

LINES MAY BE EXTENDED OUT OF PADUCAH SOON.

Eastern Capitalists Inquiring and Stone & Webster Company Said to Be Awake.

It is persistently rumored that at least two coteries of eastern capitalists have written to Paducah for information with the view of building an interurban line out of Paducah. This idea has been agitated often, but so far with no material developments. The concerns interested in the latest projects are amply backed by capital and only seek assurance that the investment will be safe before proceeding.

It is probable that the Stone & Webster company will seek to extend its lines outside Paducah as soon as the local system is completely repaired. Just at present and for the next twelve months this company will direct all its attention to bringing the Paducah city service to first-class condition. It is not likely that this company, which is constantly engaged in the business of extending interurban lines, will allow itself to be crowded out of the field.

STRANGE LETTERS COME TO PADUCAH

Condemn Bitulithic Paving Compound.

Editorial From Local Publication Is Returned to Resident From Memphis.

ASPHALT MIXTURE ADVOCATED.

What is apparently an attack on the bitulithic paving compound and its makers by an interested competitor has come to light in letters from various places received by Paducahans during the last few weeks. These letters bearing no signatures, and sent from a different place each time, condemn the bitulithic pavement and present the advantages of asphalt as a paving compound.

This last feature of the communications affords the only clew to the identity of the senders, or, at least, the concern that is prompting the communications, and coupled with editorials, derogatory to bitulithic, which have been appearing from time to time in a local publication, notorious for its self-righteous declarations, make it appear that the asphalt trust is taking a hand in the local situation and endeavoring to discredit the product of the Nashville concern in Paducah.

One of these communications received by a Paducah man from Memphis contained a clipping or reprint of one of the editorials published September 5, 1905, condemning the bitulithic compound.

Another unsigned article on the same subject was dated from Nashville and other towns in Pennsylvania.

This gentleman stated that similar communications had been received by his acquaintances, showing that the instigator of the letter writing is seeking to create a sentiment adverse to the bitulithic paving.

HIGHEST BIDDERS.

Get Houses and Others Return to Refugee Camps.

San Francisco, July 19.—The number of people in refugee camps is increasing daily because of the cupidity of the owners of houses, which escaped destruction by earthquake or fire. Houses are being rented to the highest bidders.

CITY HALL THIEF

STEALS FAN OUT OF BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS ROOM.

Mayor Thinks of Hiring a Watchman to Protect Property Around Headquarters.

"I am going to have a special man stationed at this city hall for the purpose of preventing people from stealing from the hall if something is not done at once."

This statement was made by Mayor D. A. Yeiser this afternoon when he discovered that the electric fan had been stolen from the office of the board of public works, which adjoins his office, and which is occupied by the city stenographer, Miss Bertha Leming. Mayor Yeiser addressed his remarks to Chief of Police James Collins and he was in anything but a good humor.

"I think that it has come to deplorable conditions when thieves go on right here in the city hall, and think some drastic means should be taken at once to prevent it. I hear of many things being missed and it has gotten to be something more than a mere joke," he continued.

The mayor then retired and Chief Collins began a search for the fan. At last accounts he was still searching.

MIKASA TO FLOAT.

Togo's Famous Battleship Soon to Be Raised.

San Francisco, July 19.—Admiral Togo's famous battleship Mikasa, which sank at anchor in Port Saibon, after the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war, soon will be adrift again according to Japanese advices. Divers have been working on the sunken derelict for months.

SENTENCED TO DEATH IS GENERAL STOESSEL

General Falk Sent to Gallies For Twen- ty Years, According to the Commission.

FOR SURRENDERING PORT ARTHUR.

ROYAL LOOT

NEW YORK DETECTIVES ARE SCOURING TOWN FOR

Gems That Rank Among World's Fa- mous Perfect Stones in Collec- tion Stolen.

New York, July 19.—The Herald says: Gems of a size and value that make their description read like a list of loot of a royal treasure have been stolen and the detectives of police headquarters are raking the city high and low seeking to find a trace of them. It has been many years since the police have had on hand a search for scores of diamonds, most of them as large as a pigeon's egg, and so numerous that an estimate of value at $50,000 is treated with scorn as wholly inadequate.

It is understood that the jewels were stolen from a woman very well known in New York society. Most magnificent of the pieces of jewelry which are included in the stolen treasure is a stomacher, a girdle of fire, in which only the finest diamonds are set. They range in size up to six karats.

In addition to the stomacher there are 25 other articles of diamond jewelry in the list of missing gems. These are also set with very large and very fine stones. Four karats are about the smallest of those set as solitaires, and other stones run up to six karats and larger.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

Will Be Examined by County Boards of Kansas.

Topeka, Kan., July 19.—A meat slaughtering house, near Wellington, inspected by order of the state board of health has been found to be in such a filthy condition that Dr. J. S. Crumbine, secretary of the board, has sent notices to the county commissioners of every county in the state, directing them to examine the slaughter houses in their districts, an act not found to be in a sanitary condition to allow five days for cleaning up as permitted by law. If the order is not complied with in the time specified, arrests and prosecution may follow.

OLD SETTLERS BAR POLITICS

Speakers at Reunion in Sangamon County Also Eschew Religion.

Springfield, Ill., July 19.—Politicians are barred from the programme to be given at the annual reunion of the Sangamon County Old Settlers' association August 8. The speakers also will be prohibited from discussing religion. In former years office-seekers have taken advantage of the reunion to get before the people in an effort to secure votes, and the old settlers have become tired of them.

UNUSUAL DIVORCE SUIT.

Young White Woman Finds That Her Husband Is a Negro.

New Orleans, July 19.—One of the most unusual divorce suits on record was filed in the civil district court today. Lena McIntosh a young white woman, who was married by Judge Maher in Algiers, to Charles A. Navarro January 20, 1902, asks for the annulment of the marriage on the ground that she has discovered that her husband is a negro.

Dr. Devine Resigns.

San Francisco, July 19.—Much to the surprise of friends and fellow members of the relief commission, Dr. Edward Devine has resigned his position on the relief committee. Dr. Devine said he desired to return to New York. He probably will leave for that city August 2.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—The commission appointed to inquire into the surrender of Port Arthur to the Japanese during the war, has filed a report. The commission proposes that General Stoessel, in command during the siege of Port Arthur, be sentenced to death, and General Falk, who was a member of Stoessel's staff, urged his chief to surrender, be condemned to twenty years in the galleys.

Sent to Siberia.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—An infantry regiment at Lodz refused to arrest soldiers of a cavalry regiment at Vilna, who declined to obey their officers, despite numerous threats made by commanders. Both regiments will be dismissed from the service and the men sent to Siberia.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—As further proof of the change of spirit at Peterhof it was learned that Emperor Nicholas has requested the members of the Goremynkin cabinet to retain their posts.

Barometer Falling.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—The political barometer is again falling. The confusion which seems to have taken possession of the upper spheres since the efforts to form a coalition ministry failed, coupled with the alarming reports from the interior and the attitude of parliament, make almost anything possible.

There has been a marked renewal of apprehension that the crisis may end in a coup d'etat against parliament.

The assassination of Vice Admiral Choukoun and Gen. Kozlov, the discovery that behind the murder of the general was a big plot to kill not only Gen. Trepoft, but Prince Putiatin and other courtiers, and the general epidemic of assassination, which has terrorized not only the local authorities, but even the police, together with the wild destruction of property by the peasantry in half a dozen provinces during the last few days, have again strengthened the small part of the court which believes in resorting to "extreme measures."

The adoption of the lower house of parliament of an address to the country will, it is feared, place in the hands of the reactionists the needed lever to move the emperor.

The members of the extreme left seemed to court a fight, preaching open revolution from the rostrum. The Novoe Vremya, which often reflects the views of the court, says today that the adoption by the lower house of an address to the country would go beyond the jurisdiction of parliament and virtually constitute an appeal from the government to the people.

Dispatches from the interior continue to tell without interruption stories of the burning of many houses, robberies, murders, collisions between peasants and rural guards and the hurried dispatch of troops here and there. The center of the peasants uprising is Voronezh province, where the peasants in their mania for the destruction of property do not discriminate between friends and enemies, as evidenced by the complete devastation of the estate of M. Kokoshkin, one of the most prominent constitutional democrats in the lower house.

TROLLEY CAR KILLS BANKER

Philadelphia Capitalist Is Crushed Death Under Wheels.

Philadelphia, July 19.—George May, a wealthy banker, was crushed to death today under the wheels of a trolley car.

Fair tonight, Friday probably local thunder showers. The highest temperature reached yesterday was 92 and the lowest reached this morning was 71.

The Indians beat the Hash Singers yesterday and went ahead, taking third place after the Hash Singers had held it for one day. The Cairo Bulletin has this to say of the game:

In spite of the fact that yesterday's game with Paducah was a hit and run affair, which finally ended in a victory for the visitors with a score of 10 to 9, it was not without its interesting features.

Paducah took the lead as a result of hard work on the part of Way who allowed two men to walk and one to get a hit. Wagner was called to his assistance then and not having been warmed up showed up in but little better form than Way. Paducah landed on him for two singles and two doubles. These netted Paducah five runs.

Cairo, however, overcame this in the second with one to spare. Then in the sixth Paducah tied the score and made two more runs in the seventh.

No more scores were made until the sixth when Paducah made two more. Cairo in her part of the ninth made five safe hits, netting three runs and had two men on bases when the three outs were made. The battle ended when Blousser hit an easy one to short, forcing Dithridge out at second.

Vincennes, Ind., July 19.—The Hoosiers yesterday got a jacking on their home grounds from the Belittes. The game was one of the most peculiar seen on the local grounds this season. The Hoosiers outthrew the visitors by six hits and errors (called), yet the Jacksonville bunch won the game. It was done by taking advantage of an error when hits were bunched. ## LIKE OUR TOWN

TOM EVITTS DOES HONORS TO HANDSOME VISITORS.

Early Morning Call Finds Broadway
Clean and City Wrapped in Slumbers.

Excursionists on the steamer City of Savannah which arrived from St. Louis this morning between 3 and 4 o'clock literally "took" the city hall and the city jailer, Thomas Evitts. They swooped down on the place at 4:30 o'clock and 40 young women with a few young men in the party swarmed all over the place.
They had heard of Paducah and could not wait until the residents had arisen to see the town. They got out of their berths at daybreak and after dressing left the boat. The city hall was the only place they found open at that hour and they made the city jailer show them over it, from lockup to the belfry.
"The young women seemed favorably impressed with the city hall and the town," Jailer Evitts remarked, "and I sent them over on Broadway to take a look at the streets. They found them clean, because they had been swept last night and no traffic over them. The streets caught their eye. They will return Sunday and hinted that they would expect to see the automobile club at the wharf to 'show them about' the city." It's now "up to the automobile club."

GET THEIR $100.

Paducah Officers Take Escaped Prisoners to Eddyville.

Patrick Kirk, special agent for the Illinois Central has returned from Eddyville, where he and Patrolman Thad Terrell yesterday took Will Reighley, colored, an escaped convict. "We got our $100 reward," Kirk said. "The negro had but four months to serve with good time, but he will lose this and will be given a 'strapping.' The negro never once talked about how he got away until we had the handcuffs on him. That broke him down. He then knew he was in for it, and 'came clean.'"

OUT HIS CHIN.

Illinois Central Conductor Meets With Bad Accident.

Mr. Tommie Keegan, the Illinois Central conductor, is suffering from a cut chin the result of a break in train, No. 186, at Princeton two days ago. The train parted and Keegan started to leave it to prevent being injured. When the two parts came together again he was jolted and his hand held torn loose. His chin struck the end of the caboose and a painful cut was inflicted.

TOBACCO CULTURE PROVED SUCCESS

Growers of Six States Adopt Plan of Government.

Burley Raisers Convene at Lexington and Decide to Make No Effort to Fix Prices.

NO INDICTMENTS OF TRUST.

Washington, July 19.—After several years of experiment the department of agriculture feels that it has solved the problem of tobacco selection and increasing the yield per acre from seed grown on the same ground where the crop was raised. This season practically all the tobacco raisers of the Connecticut valley, of Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky and Tennessee and most of those in Florida and a good many in all the other tobacco states have accepted the plan that the department has worked out for them in the past four years. They are saving their choice seed under paper bags to prevent contamination of the pollen, and on the most carefully managed plantations the farmers are raising tobacco crops that bid fair to double the yield of the average previous years. This year is the first time that the method is being freely tried on a big scale.

Let Prices Go.

Lexington, Ky., July 19.—At a meeting held here this afternoon of the Kentucky and Ohio Tobacco Growers' company it was decided to make no effort to control the market or to purchase any tobacco this year, and to return to any stockholders who desired it their pro rata of the amount now in the treasury which remains from the 10 per cent assessment made on the stockholders last year.

No Indictments.
Nashville, Tenn., July 19.—The federal grand jury here which has been investigating the alleged tobacco trust will be discharged by Judge Lorton, of the United States circuit court, tomorrow morning.

RIVER NEWS

River Stages.

Cairo	18.1	0.1	rise

Evansville	5.7	0.0	at'd
Florence	8.5	0.8	rise

Nashville	10.4	0.7	fall

Davis Island Dam	4.6	-0.1	fall
St. Louis	13.9	0.4	fall
Mt. Vernon	4.8	0.0	at'd
Paducah	8.0	0.7	rise

The river rose 0.7 feet in the last 24 hours, the gauge registering a stage of 8.0 feet this morning. But this rise probably is the river's last until the fall rains. River men are not worried by the fall for business has been extraordinarily good this year, and hence the fall can be more complacently be watched. Preparations for replacing the large boats with smaller craft are being completed.

The Dunbar arrived last night late from Clarksville and left this morning at 6 o'clock for Nashville, the river being sufficiently high to make that point.

The Savannah arrived early this morning from St. Louis with a big load of wheat for Johnsonville, Tenn., where it will be re-shipped to Nashville by rail. The Savannah was 12 hours late leaving St. Louis, and should have been here last night. Passenger business always is good on these boats from St. Louis where weary school teachers and other persons, principally feminine, seek variation from that city's monotonous brick and stone, between the luxuriant green of the Tennessee. Incidentally they get to see Paducah and its wharf.

The John Hopkins arrived from Evansville today and left immediately on the return trip. The Evansville packets are slightly late from the low water.

The Henry Harley arrived from the upper Cumberland yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock to take the place of the John Hopkins in the Evansville trade. The Dunbar which is now in the Cumberland river trade in place of the Butteroff will take the place of the Joe Fowler. The Bob Dudley, which is receiving repairs on the dry docks, will take the place of the Dunbar in the Cumberland river trade.

The U. S. boat Lookout left yesterday to do government work in the upper Tennessee river.

The Clyde left last night at 6 o'clock for the Tennessee river. The Dick Fowler got away on time this morning for Cairo with a fair business.

The Kentucky will arrive out of the Tennessee river tonight and lie over until Saturday evening. The dredge boats leave here in a day or two to dredge out, widen and deepen the channels at shallow places below here. They soon will have the river in good condition. The towboat Nellie Wickett will tow the dredge boats from place to place. It will be a great improvement and benefit to navigation.—Courier-Journal.

Capt. Lloyd W. Whitlow, for many years a clerk on steamers out of Louisville to points on the lower Ohio river and afterwards clerk on the first James Lee, in the Memphis and Friars Point trade, is proprietor of the Hotel Latham at Hopkinsville, Ky.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, no material change during the next 24 hours. At Paducah will rise during the next 24 hours. At Cairo will rise Thursday.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth will rise during the next 24 hours. The stage at Florence will exceed 8 feet within the next 12 hours. The Mississippi from below St.

STIFF TIMES.

Given Old Offenders By Police Judge Puryear.

Police Judge E. H. Puryear is fast gaining a reputation for his quick and effective disposal of criminals brought before him.

Two negroes were brought into court. The woman had often been in court and has a bad reputation. The man was arrested with her for disorderly conduct. This consisted of seizing the man's cap and running about with it in the street, preventing his going home. The evidence was heard and the facts of the woman's reputation made known to the court. She was fined $25 and warned.

Another one of Judge Puryear's quick decisions ran this way: "How many times have you been in police court?" "One befoah, yo honah," the darky replied.

Twenty-five dollars and costs, and if you let me see you up here again, I will double it."

How deadly a weapon is a pistol.

CAIRO DROPS OUT OF KITTY LEAGUE

Poor Patronage Proves Undoing of Sport.

Even Paducah Fails to Attract Paying Crowds to Sportsmen's Park.

PARIS WILL GET FRANCHISE.

Baseball in Cairo is dead, and the fans in sister city are wearing crepe and hanging their heads in sorrow and mortification. The last struggles of the dying sport ceased yesterday when the management announced it did not intend to lose any more, and informed the fans that Cairo would surrender her franchise in the Kitty league.

Baseball in Cairo has not drawn well this season. The biggest crowds during week days would not pay the expenses of the players even at home, and with each week the management lost money. Dan McCarthy, the coal dealer-manager, threw up the sponge several weeks ago, disgusted with the poor patronage, and Guy Eichenberger was persuaded to continue the remainder of the season in the capacity of manager. He found it not a paying proposition and yesterday quit.

Paducah fans will regret to learn of this action. Cairo and Paducah were the only teams to stick it out until the last in the old Central league of 1897, and it was thought that Cairo fans would patronize as well as Paducah. In Paducah the attendance has been poor but not so poor as in Cairo. The fact that Paducah and Cairo are baseball rivals is generally a factor in drawing both here and at Cairo, but this brought no better crowds this season than any other teams.

The Indians and Hash Slingers will play this afternoon and it will end baseball in Cairo for the remainder of the season. President Gosnell has called a meeting in Paris, Ill., today and it is presumed that Paris wants to take over the Cairo franchise and continue the season.

Manager Eichenberger is already disposing of his men and sold Wagner, his best pitcher, to Memphis in the Southern league. He is negotiating with other teams to sell other players. He is trying to secure good berths for his men.

Paducah Is Interested.

The effect the dropping out of Cairo will have on the league is uncertain. It may mean that the other towns will vote to drop Paducah and continue a four club league and it may mean that Paris, Ill., will be taken in and a six club league maintained. It may mean that Paducah will be dropped and two more Illinois or Indiana towns taken in.

"I received a telegram from President Gosnell in Vincennes," Mr. Gus Thompson, president of the local association stated today, "asking me to come to a league meeting to be held on July 20, at Paris, Ill. I shall attend. I do not know what effect Cairo's withdrawal will have on the league, but Paducah will stick if there is any possible way to keep the league going. All towns are drawing poorly and it looks like baseball is generally dead in the Kitty league circuit."

It is an undisputed fact that small towns cannot support baseball more than two or three years at a stretch. After that the games lag and the fans lose interest. This was demonstrated in 1897 when towns having had baseball for several years failed to hold up. It is only after a vacation of several years that the game can be revived and money made.

This season the Paducah association has lost but has made no complaint other than of bad attendance and has and will stick with any of them.

COLORED PICNIC.

Three Specials Take Crowd to Maxon Mills.

The greater portion of the colored population of Paducah is at Maxon Mills today, and to accommodate the increased traffic over the road, the Illinois Central ran three specials out of Paducah and installed an extra ticket-seller at the freight house at Eleventh street and Broadway.

The colored brethren are enjoying a big annual picnic and the woods are "full of 'em."

$16 Damages.

This morning the suit of A. and E. Dupriest against the Illinois Central road for $40 damages to household effects shipped over the road was tried by Jury in Magistrate Charles Emery's court and $16 damages was given.

While scratching his nose with the end of a loaded revolver, a man in Paris accidentally pulled the trigger and blew off the top of the nose.

IN THE COURTS

In Bankruptcy.

A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was this morning filed in Louisville, Ky., by Worthelmer-Swartz Shoe company, and other St. Louis creditors against Hugh C. Pyles, of Fulton. The creditors at first contemplated filing the petition in the Paducah district but reconsidered and sent it to Louisville. It is said that Pyles' assets amount to about $3,000. He is a merchant.

In the exceptions filed by the trustee to the claim of E. A. Diuguid & company, in the bankrupt matter of Will Harris & company, a part of the exceptions was overruled and a part sustained.

One Offender.

One offender, J. R. Brown, white, faced Police Judge E. H. Puryear, this morning. He was charged with a breach of the peace and fined $1 and costs.

Suits on Notes.

The following suits were filed today in the county court for notes: Continental Insurance company against J. H. Myles, $20; J. H. Derrington, $28; Johanan Koerner, $33; J. W. Walker, $19; F. P. Simpson, $28; W. H. Potter, $18; A. J. Earles, $24; J. W. Thomas, $25; J. A. Collier, $24, and M. A. Coley, $24.

RAILROAD NOTES

New Night Yardmaster.

R. N. Brown is the name of the new night yardmaster for the Illinois Central and he will assume charge tonight. He came to Paducah from Chicago and is said to be a capable yard man. Mr. Brown succeeds Clarence Graves, who was promoted to the position several months ago to succeed T. Mapel, resigned. Mr. Graves found the work disagreeable to him and asked for another place. He was given his former position of chief clerk to Yardmaster G. M. Stonebreaker, and tonight assumes charge of that office. Mr. Graves is a Paducah boy and handled the yards in a capable manner, entirely satisfactory to his superiors. He was requested to retain the position but declined.

W. J. Halpin, H. Jones and John George, foreman and two switchmen comprising the crew of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis yard engine, have resigned their positions and will probably work for the Illinois Central.

HERO DIES.

Attempting to Rescue Three Little Ones From Fire.

Boise, Idaho, July 19.—Charles A. Justus aged 39 years, and three children of his sister, Mrs. Samuel Moudy, were burned to death at the family homestead four miles east of Middleton last night. The parents were in a hospital at Boise, when the house caught fire. Justus went into the burning building to rescue the younger ones, aged 3, 5 and 8 years. Soon afterward a shot was heard and neither Justus or the children were again seen alive. Moudy says a loaded rifle was kept hanging under the stairs and he believes the heat caused it to explode and shoot Justus.

HERALD PERSONALS

Cause Arrest of Editor by the Federal Authorities.

New York, July 19.—The culmination of the crusade against the pernicious "personal" columns of New York newspapers came this afternoon when United States post-office inspectors made a complaint before United States Commissioner John A. Shields, charging the managers of the New York Herald with circulating obscene, lewd, lascivious and indecent printed matter through the mails.

HAGER, JAMES AND HAYS CANDIDATES

Deduction From Result of McCreary Conference.

Reason Blackburn Withdrew Was Hope That Pryor Might Come Into Camp.

LINES WILL GROW TIGHTER.

Louisville, Ky., July 19.—The conference of the supporters of Senator McCreary, held in Louisville yesterday, will probably be followed by a conference of the friends of Governor Beckham and Mr. James, also to be held in this city in a few days.

The formal announcement of Congressman James' candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor is expected to be given out Friday or Saturday, but it is positively asserted at Marion, Ky., the home of Mr. James, that a cablegram has been received from the First district congressman announcing his candidacy and that this cablegram will be made public at the proper time. The moment Mr. James announces the line of battle will be formed, not only in the governor's race, but for the minor offices, and a desperate struggle for the control of the party organization will follow.

The action of Mr. McCreary's friends in failing to bring out another candidate for governor yesterday and in practically deciding to support Judge Henry Hines for the office of auditor was for a double purpose, Senator Blackburn expected to make the race for governor when he came to Louisville yesterday, but Mr. McCreary was not in favor of it. Mr. McCreary knows that the political developments of the next few days may drive Judge W. S. Pryor into his camp, and he was not willing to close the door of hope against Judge Hager by formally bringing out another candidate for governor.

For this reason the conference adjourned yesterday, without formal action other than that Mr. Blackburn should not run for governor, and that the consensus of opinion among those present was that all the followers of Senator McCreary should support Attorney General N. B. Hays for governor. This was not finally closed, however, as an opening was left for the opening-up of negotiations with Judge Hager, if this may take of Judge Henry Hines.

Daily Thought.

"The secret of success is constancy of purpose."

If a place is good enough for a man to live in, it is good enough for him to spend his money in."

This was the text of an address by Governor Folk, of Missouri, to the retail merchants of the state, and his remarks, which follow, are sufficient in themselves, and worthy of the consideration of every Paducahian.

We are proud of our splendid cities, and we want them to increase in wealth and population, and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up,

but we also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do not believe in the mail order citizen. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and to make his money in, it is good enough for him to spend his money.

"No merchant can succeed without advertising in one way or another. Patronize your town papers, build them up, and they will build the town up, and build you up in increased trade and greater opportunities. Do not be afraid that business is going to be hurt by the recent exposures of wrong-doing in the commercial world. No man who is doing an honest business can be injured by the light. All business will be better for the cleaning process it is going through and for the stamping out of evil."

Members of the board of aldermen should guard against the intrigue of their political enemies. While at all times reserving the right to act independent of committee rule, they should remember that it is part of the business of the losing bidders on the lighting plant contract to reopen the matter. These bidders may make some sort of showing that they were bidding on an entirely different proposition, but this is not a game the council is unprying; it is a game to enlarge the lighting plant of the city, and the members of the general council have but one thing to con-as he announced, taking a real rest—a vacation free from the toll and worry of office. Practically all the wheels of government have stopped since congress adjourned and the president retired to Oyster Bay. With the exceptions of the investigation into the Standard Oil trust, railroad rebates, grain combines, tobacco trust, packing house conditions, pure food regulations, army mobilization, a few consular and diplomatic appointments, what little correspondence requires personal attention, such few political matters as necessarily must interest the head of a Democratic government, minor matters of detail, such as army uniforms, naval practice, and the reception of a caller now and then, President Roosevelt has dismissed from his mind all considerations of public business. He is devoting all his spare moments to outdoor recreation, but takes a little time off to arrange an armistice between Salvador and Guatemala. Well, he has earned his rest.

Since the attack on the bitulithic paving compound has come to light, it will behoove the Southern Bitulithic company to exercise more dispatch in finishing its work in Paducah. At the rate the Kentucky avenue paving is progressing, the section next to Fourth street will be worn out before the surface is completed to Fifth street. Incidentally, the board of public works is entitled to some censure for allowing the whole street to be torn up at once, particularly since the company seems inclined to be dilatory about the work. It may be that a lack of laborers has interfered with the plans of the contractors, but public improvement can be made extremely unpopular by delay, and everybody connected with the job shares, each in his degree, in the disesteem of the community. If it were a matter of profit to the street contractor, no doubt, some way of hurrying up operations would be devised, and the citizens of Paducah are tired of watching this snail's race.

The board of public works showed the right spirit yesterday in the following The Sun's suggestion that the streets be cleared and contractors be compelled to restore the surfaces of the streets after tearing them up. Attention to these little details does not attract so much attention as some bigger undertakings, but it is by the care of municipal property that the worth of an executive board is measured.

It is not surprising that a gentle "rush" overspread the surface of Broadway early this morning, when those handsome young women from St. Louis looked at it so critically. But Broadway had a clean face, early as it was. We trust the river fog obscured some of the ancient decorations along the water front.

Igorrotes, brought to this country for exhibition purposes, complain that they are deprived of their favorite dish of stewed dog and compelled to eat the products of the Chicago packing houses. Manifestly, the Igorrotes take their's straight.

If all the tales of accidents in the Chicago packing houses are true, when the chemists get through analyzing canned meat we may canonize the analyzed meat.

President Roosevelt's agricultural labors may be only a gentle hint to Secretary Taft to make hay.

What Osteopathy Is.
The question is often asked "What is Osteopathy?" for some people have a very vague idea of this new science that is doing so much to aid mankind. Osteopathy, when well digested, is nothing but good sense and reason.

It is a method for treating disease by manipulation, to restore the normal condition of the nerve control and the blood supply to every organ of the body by removing the physical obstructions, or by stimulating, or checking, functional activity, as the conditions may require.

A diseased body is caused by some interference to a working part of the organism, and a correction of it brings restored health. Therefore, osteopathy finds the disturbance and, righting it, effects its cure.

The methods used are scientific manipulation, and no medicines, and they are very successful.

Some of the diseases in which osteopathic treatment has been the most effective are headaches of all kinds, nervous disorders, malaria and bilious, tired down and fagged out conditions, indigestion in its many forms, kidney troubles, neuralgia and rheumatism. It treats successfully, however, nearly all diseases. If you are ailing, no matter what your particular trouble may be, I should like to have you call and let me tell you why Osteopathy will cure in your especial case. I do not claim that Osteopathy is a cure-all, but am frank and will tell you what it will do in any individual case, at the same time referring you to people who know, who will gladly tell you what the treatment has done for them.

NO KISSES.

Groom Asserts Marital Rights and Repulses the Judge.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot met his first Waterloo today in marrying a couple. He is a great joker when he feels like it and although he has never made an attempt to "kiss the bride," did suggest it this afternoon but was repulsed.

William Brayfield and Florence Boston, hailing from Carterville, Ill., wanted to be married. After procuring the license they went to the nearest official to perform ceremonies and this was Judge Lightfoot. After the ceremony Judge Lightfoot started forward. "It is now in order for me to kiss the bride," he declared as he made demonstrations towards carrying out his suggestions. "Well, not if I know it," the groom declared, as he planted his big six feet in front of the little judge. "I guess I'll have something to say about that. The judge did not kiss the bride."

HEROISM OF A WOMAN.

Keeps Ship's Crew at Work Until Rescue Is Effected.

New Orleans, July 19.—The story of a woman's heroism during the shipwreck of the schooner Lillie on Grand Cayama Island, near Cuba, on June 28, was told today upon the arrival here of Captain Miller of the Lillie. His wife, who was a Jackson, (Miss.) girl, was aboard the Lillie with her 11-month-old baby at the time of the wreck. When the schooner struck a reef about 2 o'clock in the morning and waves began to wash over the deck, Mrs. Miller's baby was lashed to her body. No help from shore was available until after daylight and during the long wait in the darkness and storm, whenever the six members of the crew who were working to keep the schooner afloat appeared to be losing ground Mrs. Miller made her way along the perilous deck, encouraging and occasionally singing to them.

POLITICS IS BEHIND

of which the old council was.

Some Recommendations.
Following are letters, recommending the plan adopted by the joint committee:

Williamsport, Pa., July 13, 1906.

Dear Sir: Replying to your favor of the 11th inst., we have used for the past year and a half the magnetite arc lamp manufactured by the General Electric company, and in its present shape is a very satisfactory mode of lighting streets in this locality. The arc is bright and distributes very well. The lamp itself requires but little care. The system requires first class line construction, and a reasonable amount of attention. We are satisfied that our selection is a good one, and have no substantial complaints to make, a few minor defects being about eliminated. As to economy of operation, in our judgment it will compare more favorably with any other system giving the same amount of illuminating value. Yours truly,

LYCOMING ELECTRIC COMPANY,
ERNEST M. DAVIS, Gen. Mgr.

Jackson, Mich., July 13, 1906.

Mr. Earl Palmer, Paducah, Ky.
Dear Sir: We are in receipt of your favor of the 11th asking about the G. E. magnetite arc lamps. We have had these lamps in service for about two years and they are proving very satisfactory.

We were among the first to install these lamps and since we bought them the G. E. Co. has considerably improved the lamp. We are perfectly satisfied with it and find it very economical in the consumption of current and the illumination is superior to any other lamps we have used.

Yours truly,
COMMONWEALTH POWER COMPANY.

J. B. FOOTE.

By GLENN D. SMITH.

Cattlettsburg, Ky., July 17, 1906.

Dear Sir: In reply to yours of the 11th inst. we installed seventy magnetite or luminous arc lamps manufactured by the General Electric company in this city, about one year ago. This system is all that the General Electric company claims for it, and we would strongly advise you to install this system. Our people here are delighted with it.

Respectfully,
THE CARPENTER ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER COMPANY.
D. H. CARPENTER, President.

Portland, Ore., July 13.—D. C. magnetite lamp used for our street lighting generally satisfactory.

Try to Reopen Bidding.

An attempt will be made tonight to reopen the bidding when the board of aldermen meets. Representatives of competing concerns have not left the city, but seeing an opportunity to start the fight all over again, have banded together and have been in consultation with members of the general council, and Mayor Yeiser, alternately. They claim they have been badly treated, and that while they were bidding on the specifications prepared by Engineer Holmes, the accepted bid does not conform to the specifications.

Barbers Examiners Here.

J. H. Root, vice president of the state barbers' examining board, has returned from Louisville, ready to examine local barbers. While in Louisville he and President John Young and Treasurer William Brown examined 400 barbers. President Young will address the Central Labor union when he comes.

AN ILLINOIS BOY

Enlisted in Army When He was But Ten Years Old.

Washington, July 19.—Officials of the pension office think they have discovered in Lyston D. Howe, of Streator, Ill., the youngest volunteer of the civil war. He enlisted first in 1861, when only 10 years and 9 months old, and served four months when he was discharged on account of his age. He enlisted again in 1862 when 11 years and 5 months old and served until the end of the war.

EXPOSING GRAFT.

St. Petersburg, July 19.—M. Bratseff, the former employee of the controller, today printed the first of his promised exposures, giving a chapter and verse to prove that the government was, during the war with Japan, swindled out of $100,000 for the rent of a fictitious barracks at the mouth of the Ussuri river in Manchuria, the contract for which was made by Capt. Yakimovich, of the customs department.

PEACE COMMISSIONERS

They will go on board the United States cruiser Marblehead at Acajutla with the commissioners of Honduras and proceed to San Jose, Guatemala, where the other commissioners will be taken on board and the party will put to sea and draw up and sign the treaty of peace.

Gibson, the lawyer held by the coroner in $25,000 bail at the conclusion of the inquest into the death of Mrs. Alice Kimman. The prosecution said an error was made. ## Likes the Home.

Myrtle Arnis who was taken to Louisville and placed in the Home of the Good Shepherd, has written Chief of Police James Collins a letter giving her impression of the home. She likes the life and says she would not give it up for any consideration. ## UNION LABOR

ATTACKED BY VAN CLEAVE BEFORE TYPOTHETA.

President of National Association of Manufacturers Thinks It Should Be Regulated.

Brooklyn, N. Y. July 19.—This afternoon James W. VanCleave, of St. Louis, president of the National Association of Manufacturers addressed the National Typotheta. Among the things he said:

"I call upon every man high or low, to realize now as never before that it is not enough merely to regulate capital and bring it abruptly within the bounds of legality and fair dealing; it is necessary also to be sure that labor, so called—not real labor, of the great mass of all of us, but the favored labor of a comparatively few—must understand not only that it cannot expect special protection if it transgresses the laws as they now stand, but that special and unusual privileges or privileges of any sort are not to be meted out to us.

"And I call upon all good American citizens to work to this end. Larder and longer than ever to any purpose before, so that it may be determined once for all, most opportunely at this time, that industrial and moral uplift is potent to the community, that the square deal means a square deal for everybody on equitable terms for all and that justice and equality are the most active and precious realities in our American lives today."

BRADSHAW CREEK

Board of Health Will Consider This Problem Soon.

The board of health will meet probably some time this week to consider the Bradshaw creek problem. It is said that some of the residents along the creek have sanitary sewers emptying into the creek and as this would be inimical to the health of the city as well as unauthorized by the health officer, it will be investigated. The plumbers of the city will be present at the meeting to give whatever information they may have about residents having sewer connections with the creek.

In the Bishop's Carriage

By MIRIAM NICHOLSON

(Copyright, 1906, by The Bobbs-Merrill Co.)

"Tom—oh, yes, now I remember," Obermuller got between us as he spoke. "Your friend up—in the country that you went to see and couldn't. Not a very good-looking, your friend, Nance. But—farming, I suppose, Mr. Tom?—plays the deuce with one's looks. And another thing it does: it makes a man forget sometimes just how to behave in town. I'll be charmed, Mr. Tom, to oblige a friend of Miss Olden's; but I must insist that he does not talk like a farmer."

He was quite close to Tom when he finished, and Tom was glaring up at him. And, Mag, I didn't know which one I was most afraid of. Don't you look at me that way, Mag Monahan, and don't you dare to guess anything!

"If you think," growled Tom, "that I'm going to let you get off with the girl, you're mighty—"

"Now, I've told you not to say that. The reason I'll do the thing she's going to ask of me—if it's what I think it is—is because this girl's a plucky little creature with a soul big enough to lift her out of the muck you probably helped her into. It's because she's got brains, talent and a heart. It's because—well, it's because I feel like it, and she deserves a friend."

"You don't know what she is," it was a snarl from Tom. "You don't—"

"Oh, yes, I do; you cur! I know what she was, too; and I even know what she will be; but that doesn't concern you."

"The hell it don't!" Obermuller turned his back on him. I was dumb and still. Tom Dorgan had struck me after all.

"What is it you want me to do, Nance?" Obermuller asked.

"Get him away on a steamer—quick," I murmured—I couldn't look him in the face—"without asking why, or what his name is."

He turned to Tom. "Well?"

"I won't go—not without her."

"Because you're so fond of her, eh? So fond, your first thought on quitting the country was to come here to get her in trouble. If you've been traced—"

"Ah! You wouldn't like that, eh?" sneered Tom.

"Would you?"

"Well, I've had my share of it. And she ain't. Still—I . . . Just what would it be worth to you to have me out of the way?"

"Oh, Tom—Tom—" I cried.

But Obermuller got in front of me. "It would be worth exactly $1.75. I think it will amount to about that for cab-hire. I guess the cars aren't any too safe for you, or I might be less. It may amount to something more before I get you shipped before the mast on the first foreign-bound boat. But what's more important," he added, bringing his flat down with a mighty thump on the table, "you have just ten seconds to make up your mind. At the end of that time I'll ring for the police."

I went down to the boat to see it sail, Mag, at seven this morning. No, not to say good-by to him. He didn't know I was there. It was to say good-by to my old Tommy; the one I loved. Truly I did love him. Mag, though he never cared for me. No, he didn't. Men don't pull down the women they love; I know that now. If Tom Dorgan had ever cared for me he wouldn't have made a thief of me. If he'd cared, the last place on earth he'd have come to, when he knew the detectives would be on his track would have been just the first place he made for. If he'd cared, he—

But it's done, Mag. It's all over. Cheap—that's what he is, this Tom Dorgan. Cheaply had a cheap bully, cheap-brained. Remember my wishing he'd have been a ventriloquist? Why, that man that tried to sell me Obermuller hasn't sense enough to be a good scene-shifter. Oh—

The firm of Dorgan & Olden is dissolved, Mag. The retiring partner has gone into the theatrical business. As for Dorgan—the real one, poor fellow! Jolly, handsome, big Tom Dorgan—he died. Yes, he died, Maggie, and was buried up there in the prison graveyard. A hard lot for a boy; but it's not the worst thing that can happen to him. He might become a man; such a man as that fellow that sailed away before the mast this morning.

CHAPTER X.
HERE I was seated in a box all alone—Miss Nancy Olden, by courtesy of the management, come to listen to the leading lady sing concertos, that I might add her to my collection of take-offs.

She's a fat leading lady, very fat and nearly 50, I guess. But she's got a rollicking, husky voice in her fat throat that she punks the dollars down deep into her pockets. They say she's planted them deeper still—in the foundations of apartment houses—and that now she's the richest roly-poly on the Rialto.

needn't name, would encourage the idea that you're not all heart and no head. I think, Nance, I shall have you mimic the artists during working hours and the business men when you're at play. I fancy apartment houses. They appeal to me. We'll call one 'The Nancy' and another 'Olden Hall' and another . . .

"What'll I call the third apartment house, Mr. O?" I asked aloud, as I heard the rings on the portiere behind me click.

He didn't answer. Without turning my head I repeated the question.

And yet—suddenly—before he could have answered, I knew something was wrong.

I turned. And in that moment a man took the seat beside me and another stood facing me, with his back against the portieres.

"Miss Olden?" the man beside me asked.

"Yes."

"Nance Olden, the mimic, who entertains at private houses?"

I nodded.

"You—you were at Mrs. Paul Gates' just a week ago, and you gave your specialties there?"

"Yes—yes, what is it you want?"

He was a little man, but very muscular. I could note the play of his muscles even in the slight motion he made as he turned his body so as to get between me and the audience, while he leaned toward me, watching me intently with his small, quick, blue eyes.

"We don't want to make any scene here," he said, very low. "We want to do it up as quietly as we can. There might be some mistake, you know, and then you'd be sorry. So should we. I hope you'll be reasonable and it'll be all the better for you because—"

"What are you talking about?" I looked from him to the other fellow behind me.

He leaned a bit farther forward then, and pulling his coat partly open, he showed me a detective's badge. And the other man quickly did the same.

I sat back in my chair. The fat star on the stage, with her big mouth and big baby-face, was doing a cake-walk, and down close to the footlights, yelling the chorus of her song.

I'll never mimic that song, Mag, although I can see her and hear it as plain as though I'd listened and watched her all my life. But there's no fun in it for me. I hate the very bars the orchestra plays before she begins to sing. I can't bear even to think of the words. The whole of it is full of horrible things—it smells of the jail—it looks like stripes—it . . .

"You're not going to faint?" asked the man, moving closer to me.

"Me? I never fainted in my life. . . . Where is he now—Tom Dorgan?"

"Tom Dorgan?"

"Yes. I was sure I saw him sail, but, of course, I was mistaken. He has sent you after me, has he? I can hardly believe it of Tom—even even yet."

"I don't know anything that connects you with Dorgan. If he was in with you on this, you'd better remember, before you say anything more, that it'll all be used against you."

The curtain had gone down and gone up again. I was watching the star. She has such a boyish way of nodding her head, instead of bowing, after she waddles out to the center; and every time she wipes her lips with her lace handkerchief, as though she'd just taken one of the cocktails she makes in the play with all the skill of a bartender. I found myself doing the same thing—wiping my lips with that very same gesture, as though I had a fat, bare forearm like a rolling-pin—when all at once the thought came to me: "You needn't bother, Nance. It's all up. You won't have any use for it all."

"Just what is the charge?" I asked, turning to the man beside me.

"Stealing a purse containing $300 from Mrs. Paul Gates' house on the night of April 27."

"What?"

It was Obermuller. He had pushed the curtains aside; the crashing of the orchestra had prevented our hearing the clatter of the rings. He had pushed by the man standing there, had come in and—he had heard.

"Nance!" he cried. "I don't believe a word of it." He turned in his quick way to the men. "What are your orders?"

"To take her to her flat and search it."

Obermuller came over to me then, and took my hand for a minute: "It's a pity they don't know about the Gray rose diamond," he whispered, helping me on with my jacket. "They'd see how silly this little three hundred dollar business is. . . . Brace up, Nance Olden!"

Oh, Mag, Mag, to hear a man like that talk to you as though you were his kind, when you have the feel of the coarse prison stripes between your dry, shaking fingers, and the close prison smell is already poisoning your nostrils!

"how you can believe in me." "Don't you?" he laughed. "That's easy. You've got brains, Nance, and the most imbecile thing you could do just now, when your foot is already on the ladder, would be just this—to get off in order to pick up a trinket out of the mud, when there's a fortune up at the top waiting for you. Clever people don't do asinine things. And other clever people know that they don't. You're clever, but so am I—in my weak, small way. Come along, little girl."

He pulled my hand in his arm and we walked out, followed by the two men.

Oh, no! It was all very quiet and looked just like a little theater party that had an early supper engagement. Obermuller nodded to the manager out in the deserted lobby, who stopped us and asked me what I thought of the star.

You'll think me mad, Mag. Those fellows with the badges were sure I was, but Obermuller's eyes only twinkled, and the manager's grin grew broad when, catching up the end of my skirt and cake-walking up and down, I sang under my breath that ocean song that was trailing over and over through my head.

"Bravo! bravo!" whispered the manager, hoarsely, clapping his hands softly.

I gave one of those quick, funny, boyish nods the star inside affects and wiped my lips with my handkerchief.

That brought down my house. Even the biggest fellow with the badge giggled recognizingly, and then put his hand quickly in front of his mouth and tried to look severe and official.

The color had come back to Obermuller's face; it was worth dancing for—that.

"Be patient, Mag; let me tell it my way."

There wasn't room in the coupe waiting out in front for more than two. So Obermuller couldn't come in it. But he put me in—Mag, dear, dear Mag—he put me in as if I was a lady—not like Gray; a real one. A thing like that counts when two detectives are watching. It counted afterward in the way they treated me.

The big man climbed up on the seat with the driver. The blue-eyed fellow got in and sat beside me, closing the door.

"I'll be out there almost as soon as you are," Obermuller said, standing a moment beside the lowered window.

"You good fellow!" I said, and then, trying to laugh: "I'll do as much for you some day."

He shook his flat laughingly at me, and I waved my hand as we drove off. "You know, miss, there may be some mistake about this," said the man next to me, "and—"

"Yes, there may be. In fact, there is."

"I'm sure I'll be very glad if it is a mistake. They do happen—though not often. You spoke of Dorgan—"

"Did I?"

"Yes, Tom Dorgan, who busted out of Sing Sing the other day."

"Surely you're mistaken," I said, smiling right into his blue eyes. "The Tom Dorgan I mentioned is a sleight-of-hand performer at the vaudeville. Ever see him?"

"N—no."

"Clever fellow. You ought to. Perhaps you don't recognize him under that name. On the hills he's Prof. Hallowood. Stage people have so many names, you know."

"Yes, so have—some other people."

I laughed, and he grinned back at me.

"Now, that's mean of you," I said. "I never had but one. It was all I needed."

It flashed through me then what a thing like this might do to a name. You know, Mag, every bit of recognition an actress steals from the world is so much capital. It isn't like the old graft when you had to begin new every time you took up a piece of work. And your name—the name the world knows—and its knowing it makes it worth having like everything—that name is the sum of every scheme you've planned, of every time you've got away with the goods, of every laugh you've lifted, of every bit of cleverness you've thought out and embodied, of everything that's in you, of everything you are.

But I didn't dare think long of this. I turned to him.

"Tell me about this charge," I said. "Where was the purse? Whose was it? And why haven't they missed it till after a week?"

"They missed it all right that night, but Mrs. Gates wanted it kept quiet: till the servants had been shadowed and it was positively proved that they hadn't got away with it."

"And then she thought of me?"

"And then she thought of you."

"I wonder why?"

"Because you were the only person in that room except Mrs. Gates, the lady who lost the purse, Mrs. Ramsay, and—eh?"

"N—nothing. Mrs. Ramsay, you said?"

"Yes."

"Not Mrs. Edward Ramsay, of Philadelphia?"

"Oh, you know the name?"

"Oh, yes, I know it."

"It was printed, you know, in gold lettering on the inside flap and—"

"I don't know."

"Well, it was, and it contained $300. Mrs. Ramsay says. She had slipped it under the fold of the spread at the top of the bed in the room where you took off your things in Mrs. Gates' presence, and put them on again when no one else was there."

"And you mean to tell me that this is all?" I raged at him: "that every bit of evidence you have to warrant your treating an innocent girl like—"

"You didn't behave like a very innocent girl, if you'll remember," he said, dryly, "when I first came into the box. In fact, if that fellow hadn't just come in then I believe you'd 'a' confessed the whole job. . . . Taint too late," he added.

NEW FLUSH TANK BOUGHT BY BOARD

Sanitary Flushing Machine Company Gets Contract.

Board of Public Works Orders Streets to Be Cleaned Up and Surfaces to Be Repaired.

A BUSY SESSION YESTERDAY.

The board of public works yesterday issued orders for a general cleaning up of streets and pavements where improvements have been made, ordered contractors to tear up but one block of streets at a time, ordered the police department to see that wagon drivers permitting dirt to drop on the street from their wagons are prosecuted, and ordered contractors to put out more warning signals on improvement work.

The board considered that the Paducah Traction company is tearing up too much street at a time, and should replace the street in its original condition immediately after each block is finished. Wagon owners must all have good end-gates and good wagon-beds to prevent dirt and debris from falling from their wagons. In fact every defect that causes the streets to be littered with debris must be remedied and all ditches dug for water or gas mains must be properly closed or warrants will follow. The street inspector also came in for his part of the criticism, and was ordered to look more closely to his instructions from the board.

A contract with the Sanitary Flushing Machine company of St. Louis, for one street flusher at $1,000 was authorized. It proved to be the selection made by the board in the test between this one and a machine sent here by the St. Louis Street Cleaning Machine company. A bond is to be given to protect the city in every way in patents on the machine purchased.

Storm water sewers for better drainage at Twenty-first to Twenty-third streets on Jefferson street were ordered constructed at the city's expense.

The city engineer was directed to see that Friedman and Keller remove a small porch from their wholesale house at Second and Jefferson streets. It projects over on the pavement.

Street Inspector Elliott was instructed to make weekly reports as to the progress made by the Southern Bitulithic company in the building of streets, and to see that the work was pushed as fast as possible.

The gas company was ordered to rush work of laying mains on Ninth street from Broadway to Kentucky avenue.

The matter of permitting Central Labor union to stretch a banner across Broadway at Fourth street was referred to the city solicitor for his opinion.

The traction company was ordered to put Ninth street from Clark to Tennessee street in good condition. It recently put in new tracks on this street. The company was authorized to put up 27 new poles on this street.

The Home Telephone company was authorized to put up poles—at Fifth and Washington streets and Fourth street between Broad and Elizabeth streets.

The street department was ordered to clean mud from between the Illinois Central tracks at First street and Broadway.

The West Kentucky Coal Co., and others vs. steamer Woolfolk and eight barges.

Whereas libels were filed in the district court of the United States for the western district of Kentucky, at Paducah, on the 21st and 22nd days of June, 1906, by the West Kentucky Coal company and Mississippi Valley Marine Railway and Dock company against the steamer Woolfolk and 8 barges, her engines, tackle, apparel and owners, alleging in substance that said steamer Woolfolk and barges were indebted to them in the sum aggregating $2,335.97 for fuel repairs, etc., and that same has never been paid, and prays process against said steamer Woolfolk and barges, and that same may be condemned and sold to pay said claims with costs and expenses.

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court to me directed I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said steamer Woolfolk and barges, or in any way interested therein, that they may be and appear before the district court of the United States, in the city of Paducah, Ky., on or before the 6th day of August, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day then and there to interpose their claims and to make their allegations in that behalf.

REFORMED BY SURGERY

"Black Bart" Holzhay, Once Terror of North Woods, Cured of Crime.

Menominee, Mich., July 19.—"Black Bart" Holzhay, the noted bandit who kept the northern part of Wisconsin and Michigan in terror several years ago, has been reformed of his criminal tendencies by an operation. Holzhay was sent to prison in Marquette, where it was believed by those who had him in charge that his actions were due to a diseased mind. The operation followed, and soon afterward Holzhay's character changed. His criminal instincts seem to have disappeared, and he has educated himself. A movement is on foot, headed by E. D. Mosher, former warden of Marquette penitentiary, to have Holzhay pardoned.

WHAT TO DO.

Demonstrated By Teacher With Opportune Example.

Minneapolis, July 19.—"What to do in case a mad dog bursts into a room" was the unexpected problem, the solution of which Dean J. F. Downey demonstrated to his class in pedagogy at the State University summer school today. He was engaged in pointing the pedagogical path to an interesting group of prospective school teachers when through the open door came a dog, snarling, snapping and frothing. Instantly every fair pupil mounted the topmost position of her seat, while the mad-dog brute circled the room. Dean Downey had a revolver in his desk, which he brought into use at once, killing the dog on the spot.

QUITS PULPIT TO GIVE BLOWS.

Indiana Minister Drubs Worshiper in Sight of Congregation.

Marion, Ind., July 19.—Rev. Joseph Best, who has been conducting a series of revival meetings in this city, caused a panic at the services last night by denouncing a stranger in the congregation as a liar and then when the object of his wrath resented it proceeding to give him a drubbing. The men clinched and struggled in sight of the congregation, and it was plain that Mr. Best was doing a good job of trouncing when members interfered and separated the combatants. In the meantime the tent was practically cleared of women and children, who ran into the street. After order was restored Mr. Best finished his sermon.

TO ATTRACT TRADE.

Retail Merchants Consider Several Plans.

Last night the directors of the Retail Merchants' association met and discussed rebating and other forms of attraction to the public, and will report to the association which meets in regular session tonight.

Merchants, through the organization of the association, have succeeded in attracting a great deal of trade to Paducah. One of the inducements is to rebate half the fare it costs to come here from neighboring towns, if sales amount to more than a certain sum.

ST. LOUIS ICE MEN ARE SUED.

Circuit Attorney Sager Attacks Alleged Trusts in Court.

St. Louis, July 19.—Circuit Attorney Sager today filed suits in the circuit court against the Polar Wave Ice and Coal company, alleging that these companies are in a combination to restrain trade and to fix and maintain the price of ice. The suit asks that judgment for $71,400 be assessed against each company as fines for the 714 days that the alleged agreement has been in effect, and it further asks that the charters under which they have been doing business be declared null and void.

DELIGHTFUL CONCERT.

Given By Paducah's New Military Band.

The Paducah Military band gave a concert last night on Broadway. The hours were from 7:30 o'clock to 9:30 o'clock and at Fourth street and Broadway the crowd nearly blocked the street. The music was excellent and the members of the new band were highly complimented. The next concert will be given Saturday night.

OUR FINAL CLOSING SUMMER SALE

THIS is the last, and will be, beyond doubt, the greatest sale ever put on by us in Paducah. This sale includes every article beneath our roof, and the old or regular price is not considered this month. Every year we do this and we've found it profitable to both you and ourselves. The line of goods we offer are not old and shop worn, but consist of the best grades of newest merchandise. Our store will be closed this afternoon so as to enable our salespeople to mark down every garment in our store and tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock the great Clean-Up and Closing Out Summer Sale will begin and continue until all the summer goods are sold. We've had our profits on these goods; we've sold lots of them and made money on them, now it's your time, and what we have now in stock you will be buying for less than its value, even considering the time of year. We figure the dollar's worth more to us than the goods in our store that we'd be glad to sacrifice next season. We also figure the people of Paducah and its vicinity are entitled to these sales once a year, because they have aided us in business and caused us success the other portion of the time.
